MERCHANT MEMBER REGISTRATION

AKA Merchant Membership status is free to bona fide kite retailers who are AKA members.

There are a few, but important, rules.

In the AKA Bylaws, a Merchant Member is defined as a Regular, Sponsor, Life, Honorary, or Associate Family Member who operates a commercial enterprise and agrees to give a 10 percent discount on kites and related merchandise to AKA members in good standing.

Please note that the required AKA discount applies to your regular selling price, not necessarily to a "keystone" or "list" price. In other words, if you are already giving all of your customers a 10 percent discount, you must agree to give AKA members a 20 percent discount.

For each Merchant Member, the name, address, and telephone number of one store will-be listed in the AKA publication KITING. To be listed as a Merchant Member store, there must be an AKA member uniquely associated with that address, whether owner, manager, or employee. That means members who own more than one store may have each of them listed only if someone representing the owner at that location is a current individual member of AKA. One member may be associated with only one store address.

Merchant Membership expires with the personal membership of the employee associated with the store. Newsletter listing will be suspended for stores with delinquent accounts for newsletter advertising, no matter the status of the associated personal membership.
